The Carlene and Andy Ziegler Study Abroad Endowed Scholarship Fund was established in 2007 to assist academically strong students with financial need in participating in Illinois study abroad programs. Carlene studied abroad in France as an undergraduate, and hoped to make that opportunity available for others.

The Charles Wert Scholarship Fund provides financial support to Illinois students for study abroad in South or Southeast Asia with a preference for India. The program reflects the donor’s strong interest in fostering interactions between Illinois and institutions in abroad.

This scholarship for for students studying abroad is made possible by the generous donations of University of Illinois alumni and friends.

The Mary E. Mohler International Study Grant seeks to promote a global orientation among future American leaders and professionals. The grant directly assists students in broadening their educational backgrounds and encompassing an international perspective. The scholarship is funded by a generous gift from the late Mary Elizabeth Takach.

This scholarship was established in honor of Professor Michael Aiken’s eight years of exemplary leadership as Chancellor of the Urbana campus (1993-2001). Professor Aiken challenged the campus to increase participation in study abroad, and he is recognized for his unwavering commitment to enhancing undergraduate education and promoting international education on campus.
